Kicks Off the Legal and GRC Annual Sales Meeting Feb. 5. 2012 at the Westin Diplomat, Hollywood FL - Stu Wolfer Distinguish Service Award.

The Opening Session for this year's Legal & GRC sales meeting started off on a high note with the presentation of the prestigious fourth annual IMO Stu Wolfer Distinguished Service Award to Dick Bowley.

Dick was recognized as an incredible example of how much impact one individual can make when they bring passion, positive attitude and commitment to their job and community.

Since 2009, this award has been given in honor of Stu Wolfer, a field sales representative in Idaho and Montana and a United States Army reservist. Stu earned numerous awards for his outstanding service to both his company and his country. In addition to a Purple Heart, he received the Army's second-highest award for heroic achievement, the Bronze Star. Members of Stu's family, including his wife, parents, and sister were with us at the ceremony to help present the award.

The criterion for the Stu Wolfer Distinguished Service Award are based on demonstrating excellence amongst these core values: uncompromising character, commitment to people within Thomson Reuters organization as well as within their community, a passion for collaboration, intimate knowledge of customers and putting their needs first and ultimately delivering strong results.

Thomson Reuters will donate $5,000 to the charity of Dick's choice, and his name will appear on a plaque on display at the Eagan campus.

In addition to hearing this year's Stu Wolfer Distinguished Service award recipient, participants celebrated Super Bowl Sunday with a big-screen viewing party.
